SICC calendar historical highlights of Jewish history

Jewish communities have existed in the territory of Ukraine from the time of Kievan Rus' (one of Kiev city gates was called Judaic) and developed many of the most distinctive modern Jewish theological and cultural traditions such as Hasidism.

Jewish settlements in Ukraine can be traced back to the 8th century. During the period of the Khazar kingdom, Jews lived on the banks of the River Dnieper and in the east and south of Ukraine and the Crimea.

In 965, however, the Khazar Empire suffered a blow when the Russians ransacked its capital. In the middle of the 13th century (1241), the Khazars were defeated by the Mongol invasion — an invasion that devastated all of Poland.

Ukraine did eventually become independent — but not for long. In 1651, Chmielnicki suffered defeat and was forced to accept a treaty that did not give him as much control over Ukraine as he had hoped. In 1654, Chmielnicki persuaded the Cossacks to transfer their allegiance to the Russian czars. Anti-Semitism worsened after Ukraine was annexed by Russia in 1653, as the Nationalist and Socialist Party of Ukraine took control over the region. The pogroms of 1881 broke out and spread through the provinces of Ukraine.

Today Ukraine is the least anti-Semitic place in Eastern Europe

Following the victory of Volodymyr Zelensky in Ukraine's presidential elections, the country will become the only one in the world besides Israel whose president is Jewish.

Zelensky was elected President of Ukraine on 21 April 2019, beating incumbent President Petro Poroshenko with nearly 73% of the vote to Poroshenko's 25%

Prior to the outbreak of the war, the census of 1939 reported 1,532,827 Jews in the Ukraine (4.9% of the total). The Holocaust in Ukraine took place in Reichskommissariat Ukraine during the occupation of the Soviet Ukraine by Nazi Germany in World War II. Between 1941 and 1944 more than a million Jews living in Ukrainian SSR were murdered as part of Generalplan Ost and the Final Solution extermination policies.

SICC calendar historical highlights of Jewish history

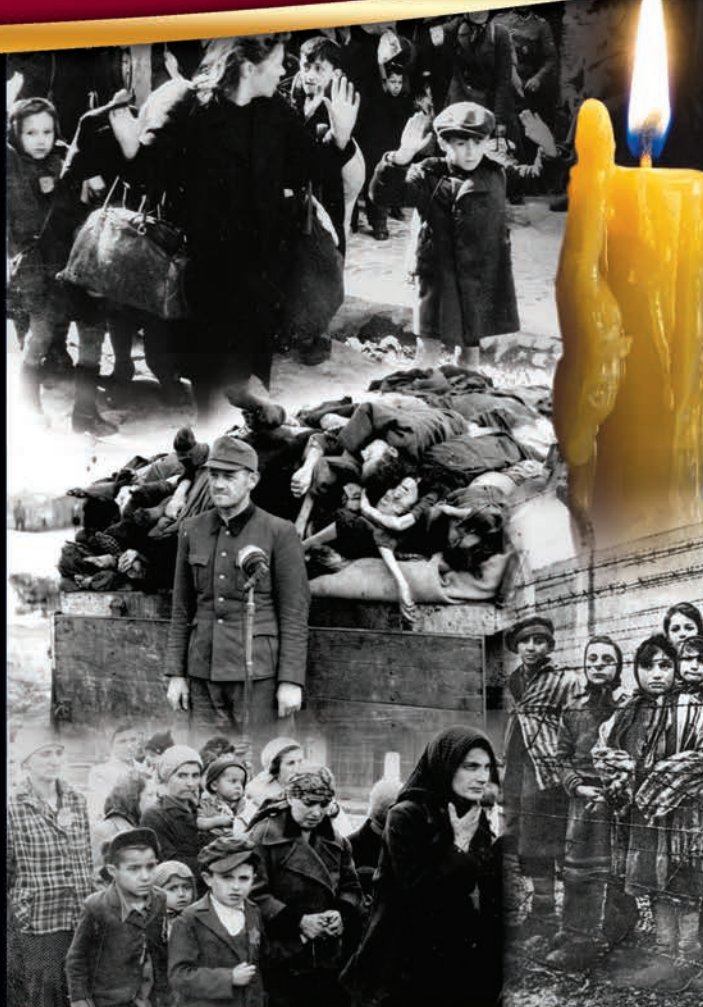

In 1933, the Jewish population of Europe stood at over nine million. Most European Jews lived in countries that Nazi Germany would occupy or influence during World War II. By the end of the war in 1945, the Germans and their allies and collaborators killed nearly two out of every three European Jews as part of the "Final Solution". Before there were gas chambers, the Nazis used guns to kill Jews and others in large numbers during the Holocaust. Babi Yar, a ravine located just outside of Kiev, was the site where the Nazis murdered approximately 100,000 people. The killing began with a large group on September 29-30, 1941, but continued for months.

In late 1941, Nazi officials opted to employ an additional method to kill Jews, one originally developed for the "Euthanasia" Program: stationary gas chambers. Between 1941 and 1944, Nazi Germany and its Allies deported nearly three million Jews from areas under their control to Nazi-occupied Poland. The vast majority were sent to killing centers, often called extermination camps, at Belzec, Chelmno, Sobibor, Treblinka, and Auschwitz-Birkenau, where they were murdered primarily by means of poison gas. Some able-bodied Jewish deportees were temporarily spared to perform forced labor in ghettos, forced labor camps for Jews, or concentration camps in Nazi-occupied Poland and the Soviet Union. Most of these workers died from starvation and disease or were killed when they became too weak to work.

In the aftermath of the Holocaust, more than 250,000 survivors found shelter in displaced persons camps.

According to the Einsatzgruppe Operational Situation Report No. 101, 33,771 Jews were killed at Babi Yar.

The Holocaust

During the Holocaust, the Nazis murdered an estimated 6,844,040 Jews.

Holocaust Remembers Day 2020 in Israel will begin in the evening of Monday, April 20 and ends in the evening of Tuesday, April 21

Israel Independence Day

David Ben-Gurion, who was the first prime minister of Israel, publicly read the Declaration of Independence of Israel on May 14, 1948. According to the Jewish calendar, this was the fifth day of Iyar, the eighth month of the civil year, in the year 5708. The anniversary of this date on the Jewish calendar is known as Yom Ha'atzmaut and usually falls in April or May of the Gregorian Calendar.

On May 14, 1948, the day the British Mandate expired, the new Jewish state - the State of Israel - was formally established in parts of what was known as the British Mandate for Palestine. With the establishment of the State of Israel in 1948, Jewish independence was restored after 2,000 years.

On December 6, 2017 President Trump formally recognized Jerusalem as the capital of Israel and stated that the American embassy would be moved from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

Independence Day is a celebration of the renewal of the Jewish state in the Land of Israel.

Moses was the miracle-working leader chosen by G-d to take the Israelites out of Egypt more than 3,300 years ago. The greatest prophet who ever lived, Moses transcribed the Torah, the foundational text of Judaism.

David
King of Israel

David is described in the Hebrew Bible as the third king of the United Kingdom of Israel and Judah, after Ish-bosheth. In the biblical narrative.

According to the Bible, the Israelite history of the city began in c. 1000 BCE, with King David's sack of Jerusalem, following which Jerusalem became the City of David and capital of the United Kingdom of Israel.

First Jewish revolt shekel issued in 68, saying "Shekel Israel, year 3", and on the reverse: "Jerusalem the Holy".

The Western Wall is a symbol of the revival of the Jewish people, a place for ceremonies, memorial days and a symbol for unity.

Six-Day War

Israeli forces May 1967

264,000 troops

- 800 tanks
- 300 combat aircraft

Total Arab forces, May 1967 Egypt, Syria and Jordan

340,000 troops

- 1,800 tanks
- 660 combat aircraft

In the spring of 1967 it seemed as though that moment had come. In three weeks and by five impressive initiatives, Nasser managed to embroil the entire Middle East in a major war. First, Egyptian forces in the Sinai were considerably reinforced, under the pretext of coming to Syria's assistance. Then Nasser demanded the evacuation of U.N. forces from Sinai and the Gaza Strip, and U Thant, the U.N. Secretary General, immediately acceded to his request. On May 20, Egyptian forces occupied Sharm el Sheikh, closing the Straits of Tiran two days later. While Egyptian propaganda was proclaiming the imminent and inevitable destruction of Israel, the massive reinforcements of troops along the borders with Israel brought the numbers of Egyptian soldiers to 100,000 and tanks to 900.

Israel staged a sudden preemptive air assault that destroyed more than 90 percent Egypt's air force on the tarmac. A similar air assault incapacitated the Syrian air force. Without cover from the air, the Egyptian army was left vulnerable to attack.

Within three days the Israelis had achieved an overwhelming victory on the ground. Israel seized the Gaza Strip and the Sinai Peninsula from Egypt, the West Bank from Jordan, including East Jerusalem, and the Golan Heights from Syria. ... Jewish minority communities fled or were expelled throughout Arab nations, with refugees going mainly to Israel or Europe.

The Arab countries' losses in the conflict were disastrous. Egypt's casualties numbered more than 11,000, with 6,000 for Jordan and 1,000 for Syria, compared with only 700 for Israel. The Arab armies also suffered crippling losses of weaponry and equipment. The lopsidedness of the defeat demoralized both the Arab public and the political elite. Nasser announced his resignation on June 9 but quickly yielded to mass demonstrations calling for him to remain in office. In Israel, which had proved beyond question that it was the region's preeminent military power, there was euphoria.

The Israeli war plan depended on a surprise attack, called Operation Focus, which would destroy the Arab air forces on the ground, starting with Egypt.

5–10 June 1967

War in 1967 came as a result of years of increasing tension and vicious border skirmishes between Arabs and Israelis.

Israeli tanks advancing on the Golan Heights during the Six-Day War between Arab and Israeli forces, June 10, 1967.

March 25, 2019 President Donald Trump signed a proclamation recognizing Israel's sovereignty over the Golan Heights, reversing more than a half-century of U.S. policy.

Ernst Neizvestny (1926 - 2016)

Ernst Neizvestny was a legendary Russian sculptor and a crucial pioneering figure actively participating in the radical changes that happened in the Soviet art world during the twentieth century. The artist was born on April 9, 1925, in Sverdlovsk (now Yekaterinburg), in the Ural Mountains in an extraordinary

Jewish family with a deep history. His remarkable mother, Bella Abramovna Dizhur, came from an ancient, aristocratic lineage going back to Sephardic Jews of Spain from the fifteenth century and subsequently to French barons D'Jour

He emigrated to the U.S. in 1976 and lived and worked in New York City. His last name in Russian literally means "unknown"

Rosh Hashanah - Jewish New Year

What: It is the birthday of the universe, the day G-d created Adam and Eve, and it's celebrated as the head of the Jewish year.

When: The first two days of the Jewish new year, Tishrei 1 and 2, beginning at sundown on the eve of Tishrei 1. Rosh Hashanah 2020 begins at sundown on September 18 and continues through nightfall on September 20.

How: Candle lighting in the evenings, festive meals with sweet delicacies during the night and day, prayer services that include the sounding of the shofar on both mornings, and desisting from creative work.

The Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah actually means "Head of the Year."

A popular observance during this holiday is eating apples (dipped in honey, baked or cooked as a compote called mansanada), pomegranates, pumpkin-filled pastries called rodanchas; beets, and a whole fish with the head intact. Some of the symbolic foods eaten are dates, black-eyed peas, leek, spinach and gourd, all of which are mentioned in the Talmud.

No work is permitted on Rosh Hashanah.

Yom Kippur - Day of Attonment

The holiest day of the Year Yom Kippur commemorates the day when G-d forgave the Jewish people for the terrible sin of worshipping the Golden Calf. This day is the day of pardoning for all future generations. This is the only day of the year where five prayers are recited. The five prayers reflect the five levels of the Soul. On this day from Sunset Sunday September 27 to Nightfall Monday September 28:

1) adults (men over the age of 13 women over the age of 12) refrain from either eating or drinking unless someone is gravely ill.

2) we do not bath or even wash our wands as we would regularly except to rid ourselves from dirt.

3) we do not anoint ourselves with oils or perfumes.

4) we do not wear leather or suede leather footwear.

5) we do not have intimate relationships.

The Mitzvah of the day aside from fasting and considering as the Sabbaths of Sabbaths is designated for reciting the "Al Cheit" or "for the Sin of..." the confessional prayers that we verbalize asking G-d to forgiveness and resolving to do better year this New Year.
